Senior Moments Redux by Jackie Byrd

Here is a picture of Mrs. Georgette Givens of Seabrook. She has been a friend and supporter of Byrd & Byrd for many years. Everyone here loves her (I'm certain the love is not just for her delicious Christmas rum cakes!)

Mary Holt, legal assistant extraordinaire, and I went by to see Mrs. Givens last week and deliver Christmas goodies. Mrs. Givens makes me smile and smile. She will be 89 in February, her husband, her only son, and her last surviving brother are deceased. She lives alone and can no longer drive. All of those things, yet she maintains an active and upbeat approach to life.

Mrs. Givens keeps her house neat as can be, pays her bills on time, walks a lot, uses Metro Access, and any inventive thing she can think of to get to the Doctor's office, the grocery store and the beauty shop. Mrs. Givens' mind is sharp as a tack. She is carrying on a running conversation with the county property tax office and has every fact absolutely straight.

Jackie and Toby with Old Saint Nick

Toby and Jackie enjoyed visiting with a special friend at the annual county Department of Aging Red & Gold Christmas Gala for Prince George's seniors age 60 and over.

The popular annual event, hosted by Rushern L. Baker, County Executive, was standing room only last week at Martin's Crosswinds in Greenbelt.
